Office on Allen Street, north side, between Third and Fourth.

Delivered by Carriers for 25 cents a Week.

THIS PAPER has been published on the 25th of October, 1885, at the office of James J. Nash, on Allen Street, north side, between Third and Fourth.

L. P. FISHER, Rooms 26 and 27, Merchants' Exchange Building, is an authorized agent in San Francisco, and any contracts made by him will be recognized. The Daily Tombstone is kept on file at his agency.

THE spectacle of Attorney General Garland taking Judge Vincent to task for a suspicious connection with New Mexican land grabbers is highly moral and instructive. Not less so will be that presented by the president inquiring how it happens that the name of his attorney general happens to be associated with telephone stock-jobbers. The two investigations being of Democrats by Democrats, Republicans will look on with equanimity, even if both Vincent and Garland are requested to resign.

THE immediate delivery system has served one good purpose, at least, by directing attention to the fact that in London, notwithstanding the great size of the city, all letters are delivered within not to exceed three hours after their receipt; and the secret is a very simple one, being nothing more than provision for a sufficient regular carrier force to handle mail matter with proper speed and certainty, at ordinary rates of postage.

THERE is good reason, manifestly, for saying that First Assistant Postmaster General Stevenson has outlived his usefulness. He brought all his faculties to bear upon the task of saving Ohio to the Democracy by bouncing Republican postmasters right and left throughout the state, and the result was a complete Democratic defeat and a Republican gain of about 30,000. Mr. Stevenson should gather up his effects and go into retirement.

MR. CLEVELAND's plan of making all the appointments he can before the meeting of Congress is probably the result of an impression that after Congress assembles he will have his hands full of other matters. It may be doubted, however, whether this forethought is wise, since, to judge from the dissatisfaction already expressed with many of the appointments, the work of explaining to the Congressmen how the appointments happened to be made will prove much more arduous than if the selections had been delayed till December.

Killed by his Farm Hand.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 27.—Last night at 8 o'clock Jas. Alexander, a farmer, living seven miles northwest of Ponca, Neb., was shot and killed by a hired man named Blair. The deceased has lived in Dixon county for twenty-five years, and was quite a prominent man in his neighborhood. He leaves a wife and several children. The provocation for the murder is not yet known, as the two men were quite intimate. After the deed was committed the murderer went to the house and coolly told Mrs. Alexander of his bloody work, but forbade her going to the granary where the body lay. After threatening the life of an aged brother of Alexander's, in the hope of obtaining what money there was in the house, without avail, he mounted a horse and fled. The country is being searched by officers and an indignant populace, and if overtaken the murderer will doubtless be lynched.

Tootle as a Slagger.

ST. JOSEPH, Oct. 27.—A sensational fight occurred in the streets of St. Joseph to-night, the principals being Frank Fuller, brother of the chief of police, and Harry Tootle, senior member of the wholesale clothing house of Tootle, Shireman & Co., and a nephew of Mr. Milton Tootle, of St. Joseph. Tootle was riding along the street on a fine horse, when Fuller, who was on the sidewalk in a semi-mad condition, called to Tootle and asked him "How much will you take for the mule?" Tootle did not reply, but latched his horse to a lamp post and, advancing to Fuller, knocked him down. Fuller arose to his feet and Tootle knocked him down a second time, and then a third time. By this time Fuller got his bearings, and in a few moments began getting the better of his assailant. Tootle was considerably the worse for the wear and tear when the combatants were separated. Both have been put under arrest.

Stabbed by a Woman.

KANSAS NEWS, St. Jo., Oct. 27.—A murder was committed last night in a woods known as Blind John's Woods. A woman named Isabelle Jackson got into an altercation with a man named Charles Gant, and from words came blows. Gant was beating the woman with a stick when she struck at him with a pocket knife, striking him just below the collarbone, on the right side, and severing an important artery, from which Gant bled to death internally in a few minutes. At the coroner's inquest the jury found that Charles Gant came to his death by a knife wound inflicted by Isabelle Jackson. The woman delivered herself up immediately after the stabbing to the coroner, who remanded her to jail to await trial.

Very Bad Money.

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 27.—A man giving his name as W. H. Tarrant, of Michigan, was arrested here last night after passing counterfeit money to two or three parties in town. He registered at the Lawrence House as W. H. Smith, of New Orleans. When he was arrested he had a large number of $20 silver certificates on his person and a number of burglar tools in his valise. The counterfeit is a base one and could not be passed on an expert. Tarrant is about 28 years old, clean shaven and weighs about 140 pounds. He is now in jail awaiting trial, which occurs Monday.

Murdered for His Money.

DETROIT, Oct. 27.—The body of a man believed to be Donald Muir, of Port Huron, was found dead on Third street just after midnight to-night. There were marks of violence on the body and a bullet hole on the left side of the head. The pockets had been turned inside out, watchchain broken and other evidences of robbery. A revolver with one chamber empty was found lying at his feet. The man had evidently fought hard and been killed for the sake of robbery.

Gus Logan Will Hang.

SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 27.—The supreme court to-night refused a new trial to Gus Logan, colored, sentenced to be hanged for the murder of a white merchant in this city last May.

A new trial was granted to Dennis Boyd, colored, sentenced to be hanged for the murder of David Hass, white, in Bossier Parish last Christmas.

Had Accounted for the Money.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—The jury in Judge Smith's court, before whom the case of the Burlington railroad company against its former paymaster, Charles E. Bartlett, to recover $10,000, found a verdict for defendant, taking but six minutes to make up their minds that Bartlett, having once accounted for money, could not be held responsible for loss by theft.

Arrested Thieves.

PHOENIX, Mo., Oct. 27.—Some parties stole a two-horse wagon last night from F. M. Truby, of this place. They came in the night and left an old wagon in place of the one they took. This feat is only equalled by the stealing of a carload of fat cattle and forty acres of land, both of which were successfully accomplished in this section within the past three months.

Quadruple Murder and Suicide.

DISCHAMPOX, N. Y., Oct. 27.—Word has been received in this city to the effect that John Howell, a farmer, residing near Starusca, Wayne county, Pa., this afternoon shot four of his children, ranging in age from 3 to 11 years, and then shot himself. His wife and eldest daughter were absent at the time of the tragedy.

A Gang of Forgers.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The police have discovered a nest of forgers who have victimized banks in this city, Pittsburgh and Boston. The writer is an expert German, formerly a clerk here. His name is Chas. Bender; that of the leader, Chas. Fisher, and two assistants, "Sam" Peters, of Baltimore, and Walter Preece, not here before known as a crook. All have been arrested and the German has confessed.

Anger Poquema Worthless.

BENTON, Cal., Oct. 27.—Herb Polke, a mining surveyor, reports the country of Anger Poquema a worthless sandy desert. The only product is lead, which is not worth the cost of transportation.

Benson Rescued.

BENTON, Oct. 27.—The famous Junior politician, Herb Benson, will regain his seat in the Reichstag on account of ill health.

Justice Court.

Justice Alford's Court was occupied this afternoon with the case of the Territory, John Henderson, charged with an assault and battery upon the person of Mrs. Shaven, the wife of a coal miner at Charleston, yesterday morning.

The statement of the case was as follows: The man Henderson was employed as a helper in the coal mine on the day mentioned went on a spree. Noting this fact, Mrs. Shaven went to the coal mine and remonstrated with the fellow for charging some Mexicans, who had stolen their horses in the coal mine, two bulls, Henderson got mad at this and went up town and got some drink. Mrs. Shaven, seeing his condition, closed the gates of the coal mine and proceeded to clean the horses herself. Henderson, coming back about this time and finding the gates closed, called the woman a filthy epithet and asked her why she closed the gates. To this she answered, "None of your business." Henderson then started to open the gates, while the woman held them together with her hands. Henderson caught her by the arm and tore her clothing in his attempt to open the gates, at the same time using very abusive language. Mrs. Shaven then had him arrested and he was brought before Judge Alford this afternoon, and through his counsel, A. R. English, asked for a jury trial, which was granted, and the case was tried before the following named citizens, who had been summoned as jurors: John Villars, G. H. Sharpe, W. E. Davis, J. C. Baker, S. Gilliam, F. Trilobert, M. Burch, John Bell, S. Leich, G. W. Finney, W. M. Constable and Solan Grist. The defendant was represented by A. R. English and the prosecution by G. W. Swain. The case was given to the jury at 3 o'clock this afternoon, who, after being out a few minutes, returned, being unable to agree, and were discharged.

County Court.

Box, Webster Street, County Judge A. O. WALLACE, Clerk.

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 28, 1885.

Minutes of last session read and approved.

Territory vs. Raymond, grand larceny.—This case has been on trial all day, and as we go to press it is still in progress.

From the testimony in the Raymond case today, it looks very dark for Mr. Raymond. Messrs. Goodrich and Smith having wound Henry up pretty tightly.
